Megan is a Senior Associate in the Corporate & Securities practice, where she focuses on mergers and acquisitions, private equity and strategic transactions, and complex corporate reorganizations. She represents buyers, sellers, and investors across the full lifecycle of transactions, including acquisitions and divestitures, equity investments, restructurings, and governance matters.

Megan regularly serves as primary day-to-day counsel on middle-market and upper middle-market deals, drafting and negotiating definitive transaction documents and coordinating multidisciplinary deal teams that include tax, employment, benefits, intellectual property, real estate, and regulatory specialists. She is known for her ability to manage high-stakes transactions efficiently, translate legal risk into practical advice, and guide clients through complex diligence and closing processes.

Her experience spans a wide range of transaction structures, including stock and asset acquisitions, mergers, roll-ups, carve-outs, minority investments, and internal reorganizations, as well as post-closing integrations and governance matters. Megan has significant experience advising private companies, family-owned businesses, professional services firms, and portfolio companies, and she frequently works with boards, executives, and financial advisors.

In addition to her transactional practice, Megan advises clients on corporate governance, entity formation, and ongoing compliance matters, including Delaware law issues. She also has substantial experience with cross-border and multi-jurisdictional transactions and financings, coordinating with local counsel to address perfection, priority, and restructuring considerations.

Megan is a leader within the firm, serving as a point person and supervisor on complex matters. She is an active speaker and writer on corporate and M&A topics and has presented continuing legal education programs on deal structuring, negotiation strategy, and transactional risk allocation. Megan is a member of the AFS Associates' Committee, a member of the AFS Fellows Class of 2023 (firm leadership and professional development program), and a participant in the AFS Prometheus Project (firm leadership program focused on innovation and technological advancement).

Previous Work

Prior to joining ArentFox Schiff, Megan was a commercial transactions and entities associate at a

Delaware-based law firm. There, among other things, she drafted and negotiated UCC perfection and entity opinions, financing statements, security instruments, and formation documents for Fortune 500 companies and other US and foreign clients in transactions including: international legacy airline financings; refinancings of two international restaurant franchises and an international entertainment conglomerate; a hedge fund acquisition of a national retail chain; private equity firm acquisitions in multi-level financings of 900+ property portfolios; and multi-iteration REIT financings.
